

Condominiums

Anderson & Kreiger's real estate attorneys serve as counsel to the developers of complex mixed-use condominium projects in the Boston area. A&K attorneys have served as condominium counsel on several of the largest condominium projects in Boston, including multi-building and multi-tiered projects. We guide clients through virtually every step of these projects. We draft the condominium documents for the projects, draft and negotiation management, vendor, and service agreements, and craft and negotiate purchase and sales agreements for residential buyers, and serve as developer's counsel on unit closings.
