2019 Interns: Destiny Porte and Alex Peebles-Capin

Anderson & Kreiger recently launched a college internship program for undergraduate-level students who are interested in potentially pursuing a career in law. The internship program is designed to expose college students to a professional law office environment and help them gain administrative experience while also learning various aspects of the legal field. Students in the program work with the administrative and legal staff at the office on a variety of tasks such as records management, trial binder preparation and pleading exhibit preparation.
