Meet Anderson & Kreiger's Newest Associates: Annie Lee and Dana Wooten

Annie Lee

Recent Boston College Law School graduate and Rappaport Law and Public Policy Fellow, Annie Lee has joined Anderson & Kreiger. Annie's passion for litigation makes her a perfect fit for our firm.

Throughout law school, Annie pursued numerous opportunities to work on racial justice and civil rights matters through her work as a student attorney as well as her internship with the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in New York City.

Annie was also a member of the Boston College Order of the Coif, received the Law School Award for Clinical Excellence and was named a Clough Center for Constitutional Democracy, Public Interest Law Scholar.

Annie was active in diversity initiatives while at Boston College Law School. She was the Co-chair of the Law Students Association Diversity and Inclusion Committee and a member of the Asian Pacific American Law Students Association and the Women's Law Center.

In her spare time, Annie enjoys cooking, movies, spending time outdoors and playing Euchre.

Dana Wooten

Dana Wooten is a 2019 Boston College Law School graduate and was one of the 2018 Summer Associates at Anderson & Kreiger. Her prior internship at the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection where she focused on greenhouse gas emissions and hazardous material release prevention makes her a great fit for the firm.

Dana also was a section representative for the Environmental Law Society and a member of the Women's Law Society and the Alumni Relations Committee.

Prior to law school, Dana worked in Prague, Czech Republic as an international sales manager for Investment Solutions Group, S.R.O., and as an English teacher. In her spare time, Dana loves to travel, play golf, read, and spend time hiking and being outdoors.

Anderson & Kreiger is delighted to have both Annie and Dana as part of the team.
